Landon New Deal Attack Hailed

KANSANS PUT GOVERNOR IN RACE

New Deal Failure, He Declares; Silent on G.O.P. Candidacy

TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 30. (AP)—Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas, hailed by Republicans as the logical choice for the Presidency, was deluged today with telegraphic comment on his conception of national problems as revealed in an address commemorating the seventy-fifth anniversary of the state of Kansas last night.

While the governor, tired from two days of strenuous "Kansas day" activity, rested, his friends handled the incoming mail and telegrams.

Typical Comment

Typical of the comment: They said, was that of Dudley Field Malone, New York attorney and Democratic leader.

"His analysis of the futile and abortive measures of the present administration merits the serious thought of the nation," Malone said.

The Kansas governor, acclaimed at a rally of more than 2500 persons last night, decried "political wasters" and urged substitution of "a liberal Democratic system" for a "tax-eating bureaucracy."

Governor Landon meanwhile maintained silence on the question of his possible Presidential candidacy.

Finds Many Flaws

In his first public analysis of national issues the Kansas governor found flaws in almost every undertaking of the Roosevelt administration.

The address climaxed a "Kansas day" rally in which state Republicans adopted resolutions virtually projecting him into the GOP Presidential picture. It was broadcast nationally.

"The clinching proof of the New Deal's failure is that almost as many persons are out (Please Turn to Page 9, Col. 4)

TREE CENSUS BEGINS HERE NEXT WEEK

Fruit and Nut Acreage Will Be Surveyed to Aid Marketing

A fruit and nut acreage survey according to age and variety of trees will get under way in Orange county next week. C. N. Guellow, with headquarters in the office of Agricultural Commissioner D. W. Tubbs, will be in charge of the survey. At the peak about 14 enumerators will be employed on the Works Progress administration project. It will last about three months.

Mr. Guellow represents the state cooperative crop reporting service.

He explained today the census is not for tax purposes but to gain information to be used in connection with marketing programs. The census will supplement information in surveys already made by Mr. Tubbs' office, which cover the period up to 1934. Changes since then will be checked.

The project will start with six or seven enumerators, four stenographers, a statistical field foreman and a schedule editor. Similar work is being done in agricultural counties throughout the state.

There are about 70,000 acres of citrus trees in Orange county, and 10,000 acres of other trees, mostly walnuts and avocados.

RAZOR-WIELDER ATTACKS TWO

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 30. (AP)—A middle-aged man attacked two motorists with a razor in the downtown wholesale district today. L. A. Baxter received a deep slash on the cheek, but the other driver, C. A. Smith, pushed his assailant to the pavement. The man escaped.

"You dog, I'll kill you," the man shouted in each case as he leaped to the running board of the automobiles. The attacks occurred in the space of a few minutes.

F.D.R. PARDONS MOVIE ACTOR

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30. (AP)—The justice department said today that Duncan Renaldo, movie actor convicted of making false statements on his passport when he left this country with the company that made "Trader Horn" in Africa, had been pardoned by President Roosevelt.

They indicated, however, this might not save him from deportation orders based on improperly entering the country originally.

NEWSCASTING BY JOURNAL IS BEGUN

Service Over Station KVOE Gets Under Way Today

Newscasts of Santa Ana and Orange county events will be furnished to radio station KVOE in the future by the Santa Ana Journal.

The new arrangement goes into effect today through an agreement between publishers of The Journal and E. L. Spencer, manager of the Voice of the Orange Empire, Inc., Ltd.

Broadcasts of the latest happenings will be made at 12:15 p. m. and at 6:30 p. m. as in the past.

Important news events which happen locally throughout the day will be "flushed" to KVOE listeners under present plans. This is an innovation which will enable the public to get information on major events almost immediately after they happen, without waiting for the regular broadcasts.

For a while, the newscasts will deal only with Orange county and its cities, and will consist of the usual two periods daily, but plans are being perfected to place on the air Associated Press reports of state, national and world events three times a day.

Station KVOE will move in the near future to a new location at the west city limits, where a modern studio and improved broadcasting equipment will be installed as part of a general program of progress.

JURY AUDITORS FINISH WORK

Grand jury auditors today were reported to have virtually completed their work. They conferred with the grand jury yesterday, it was said.

The grand jury itself is now busy compiling its report, which it hopes to file in the near future.

The auditors have been busy since the grand jury convened, checking records and accounts in all county offices. In addition they have done some special work such as checking the accounts of County Recorder Justine Whitney, who has been accused by the grand jury of willful and corrupt misconduct in office.

BACKERS LABOR FOR TALMADGE

MACON, Ga., Jan. 30. (AP)—Followers of Gov. Eugene Talmadge sought a plan today to further him as a Democratic presidential possibility on the strength of the "Grass Roots" rally which invited him to become a candidate.

"We are trying to work out some practical plan to put Gene before the American people," said Hugh Howell, chairman of the Georgia State Democratic committee.

"The southern committee to uphold the constitution will carry on to that end."

FOUR BURNED IN TRAIN WRECK

BOONE, Iowa, Jan. 30. (AP)—Four dining car employees were burned, one possibly fatally, when a Northwestern freight locomotive rammed a passenger train near here today and toppled over several cars which caught fire.

PROBE TURNS TO LEOPOLD

Official Will Conduct Quiz of Slayers' 'Privileges'

JOLIET, Ill., Jan. 30. (AP)—State's Attorney William R. McCabe turned to Nathan Leopold today in an investigation of conditions at Stateville prison, where Richard Loeb, Leopold's partner in the slaying of 14-year-old Bobby Franks in 1924, was stabbed fatally Tuesday by Convict James Day, 23.

Announcing his dissatisfaction with official denials that the Franks killers enjoyed unusual privileges at the penitentiary, where both were under sentences of life and 99 years, McCabe said he would question Leopold outside of the presence of prison authorities.

Loeb 'Power' Denied

He indicated he might seek to remove both Leopold and Day from the prison for the quiz. A coroner's jury recommended Day be held on a homicide charge.

Warden Joseph Ragen said yesterday that Loeb did not have the "power" within the prison of which Day, in a statement to investigators, said Loeb boasted. Day claimed Loeb promised him money and other advantages if he would submit to improper advances which he charged were made by the 30-year-old Franks slayer.

Loeb under guard. Still undetermined was the origin of the razor with which Day said he slashed Loeb 52 times in self-defense after they quarreled in a bathroom. Meanwhile, Leopold was reported under guard to prevent some fellow convict from attacking him.

Official is Only Defense Witness; Case Nears Jury

Face to face with the possibility of removal from office, County Recorder Justine Whitney admitted today in Presiding Judge G. K. Scovel's court that she was short of the necessary funds to square her account with the county last Nov. 5. The white-haired woman, visibly shaken by the experience she has gone through, was the only witness appearing for her defense on a grand jury accusation of willful and corrupt misconduct in office.

She was the last witness. Final arguments were under way this afternoon and the case was expected to be in the jury's hands tonight.

Apparently troubled under cross examination by Assistant District Attorney James L. Davis, Miss Whitney explained her predicament by saying she had extended credit to banks, attorneys, oil companies and individuals who had not paid their bills to her office.

Names Only One Person. She was able to name one individual, Forrest Mitchell of Los Angeles, as a creditor who, she said, had not paid her. She said several of the banks which were closed during the depression owed her money, but that she never had filed claims against them. The United States government, she said, owes her two or three dollars for a recording on which a protest was made on the amount of the fee.

Mr. Davis asked her if she had any records to show these debts. Miss Whitney replied that at one time she had these records, but when the accounts were long overdue, she destroyed the papers.

Knew Responsibility. "When I didn't have the money I knew I was responsible and I made it up," she said.

Miss Whitney admitted that someone provided the funds with which she completed her deposit with the treasurer last November. "Where did the money come from?" asked Mr. Davis. "I had it in my account. I don't always keep all my money in the bank."

"I Don't Know." Later Mr. Davis asked again, "Where did you get it?" "I don't know."

"You don't know who gave it to you?"

It was quiet in the courtroom as the jury, judge and spectators awaited the reply.

"No, I don't know."

Presently Miss Whitney left the stand. If there was anything else she might have said, she asked no opportunity to say it.

Extended Credit. Under direct examination by O. A. Jacobs, her attorney, Miss Whitney said she had extended credit to the Orange County Title company and other title companies. Other evidence showed that the Abstract and Title Insurance company had a charge account. Both companies paid their bills, however, the evidence showed.

On other credit accounts, however, (Please Turn to Page 2, Col. 2)

BLOCK EVIDENCE IN FITTS TRIAL

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 30. (AP)—Judge Pat R. Parker refused today to permit the Hollywood "girl bazar" case to be told at the perjury trial of District Attorney Byron Fitts.

With the state's case nearly finished, Judge Parker declined to permit Special Prosecutor Clyde C. Shoemaker to call John P. Mills, rich real estate man, as a witness. The perjury charges against Fitts arose out of grand jury investigations of the dropping of morals charges against Mills.

$50 PENSION IN STATE URGED

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 30. (AP)—Unless various counties liberalize administration of the old age pension laws, Assemblyman William B. Hornblower said today, the November ballot will carry an initiative pension providing for a maximum monthly pension of $50 to all persons over 65 years of age. The group to back such an initiative, Hornblower says, feels such a move might prevent eventual enactment of an even greater pension plan.

TOT CONSUMES POISON, LIVES

FORT SMITH, Ark., Jan. 30. (AP)—Owen Anderson, Barling, Ark., is just five years old but he has proven he can take it. Physicians said the tot was recovering today after eating 99 poison tablets he thought were candy.

The doctor said a hard sugar coating on the pellets probably delayed action of the poison and saved the child's life.

SHE WANTED A GUINEA---SO!

Fullerton Woman Is a Poet

By ELLEN SNEBLEY

She'd never seen a guinea, and she wanted to know what a guinea looked like.

So she sold one of her poems to a British syndicate because they offered her a guinea—and still is waiting for payment!

By all the cherished rules for writers, Ethel (Mrs. Louis) Jacobson of Fullerton shouldn't sell a thing. She doesn't work at her poems; they "pop out." If she doesn't sell one, she waits awhile and sends it back to the same

Here's a Quandary: Whose Picture to Go on Bonds?

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30. (AP)—Government engravers today faced a problem—what President's picture should be printed on the $3,000,000 bonds?

A treasury official intimated that it would not be President Roosevelt's. It is believed it will not be a portrait of Presidents Harding, Coolidge or Hoover. They, like Mr. Roosevelt, voted bonus legislation.

Officials of the bureau of engraving and printing contended themselves with saying the portraits would be selected from engravings of chief executives now "in stock."

The Questions

With internal dissension in both parties and some spokesmen in each predicting wholesale shifts of allegiance among the voters next November, students of politics were watching closely every new development.

What will Governor Talmadge of Georgia do as the result of the invitation to become a Presidential candidate, issued to him yesterday at the Macon "grass roots" meeting of Democrats dissenting from the New Deal?

Would there be any attempt at the Democratic convention in June to merge the Talmadge forces with those of Alfred E. Smith, who was standing pat in his denunciation of the New Deal and accusing Senator Robinson (D., Ark.) of trying to "cloud the issue"?

Would Senator Borah's campaign in favor of instructed delegates to the Republican convention—a drive that runs directly counter to the wishes of some other party leaders—leave scars not easily healed?

These were some of the questions being asked today as the capital watched the kaleidoscopic whirl of political events.

ASKS CHARTER BACK

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30. (AP)—Secretary Perkins was urged today to help the sailors' union of the Pacific get back its charter from the International Seamen's union. The international union expelled the West Coast division last week for asserted violations of the union constitution.

ITALIANS RETREAT, FEARING REAR FLANK ATTACKS BY BLACKS

ROME SPEEDS SUPPLIES TO LEGIONS

15,000 Fascist Troops Menaced; Air Raids Protect Makele

By the Associated Press
Italy's cabinet voted approval to three new war measures today as an Italian column along the Southern Ethiopian front was reported threatened by rear flank attacks after a penetrating drive deep into the Wadara region.

At Rome the Italian ministers moved swiftly to requisition wool for military supplies, register the physical status and military training of all citizens and revise organization of internal defense units.

Italians Retreat

The Ethiopian government at Addis Ababa Gen. Rudolfo Graziani's troops were retreating toward Neghelli after an engagement with defending forces.

The Fascist commander feared an attack, the government declared, after Ethiopian patrols began moving in from the West. Fifteen thousand Italian native troops were reported in the dangerous position, the Ethiopian war office said, while 15,000 other white soldiers were safely encamped 40 miles southeast of Neghelli.

35 Italians Killed

From Addis Ababa came an official report of Ethiopian victory when 19 sharpshooters from the ranks of General Shale surprised a Fascist detachment, killed 35 Italian soldiers and seized four motor trucks.

The Fascist high command received the report of Marshal Pietro Badoglio, commander of the invaders in the North, that his air forces were bombing Ethiopian troops concentrations south of Makale.

Marshal Badoglio declared the defenders lost more than 5000 men in the fighting Jan. 20 to 24, including many chiefs and lesser chieftains.

Armies Reviewed

A review of existing positions of troops on the battlefields, based on accounts from official communiques and Associated Press correspondents, showed:

Northern Front.—Italian forces, halting their advance through the mountainous Tembien region around Makale, are digging in apparently determined to hold their present lines throughout the approaching rainy season.

Northeastern Front.—Fascists have abandoned Mount Mussa, Ali near the Danakil desert.

Southwestern Front.—Wadara, location of Ras Desta Denu's defending columns, fell to Gen. Rudolfo Graziani after the Italian swiftly-moving troops swept toward the Ethiopian interior. Ethiopian sources declared Denu's retreat was not to be considered an Italian victory but merely withdrawal into rugged country where the defender could pursue better their mode of guerrilla warfare.

Southeastern Front.—Opposing armies are strongly entrenched with only slight activity between the lines reported.

ever, Miss Whitney said she had lost hundreds of dollars.

Check Came Back

Again under cross-examination, Miss Whitney admitted that last April, when she made her settlement for March, her check came back. She said she told a bank official she didn't have enough money to cover it and asked him if some arrangement could be made.

"He said he thought it could, but the check came back," said Miss Whitney.

"Money Not Collected"

"Where was the money?" asked Mr. Davis.

"I presume I had not collected it," she replied.

"Who owed you?"

"I don't know."

Miss Whitney said she presumed she had made her October settlement with the county on Nov. 18. The law requires a settlement on the fifth of the succeeding month.

Admits Talk With Two

She admitted she talked to Robert Mize, deputy recorder, and told him she had not made her settlement. When Mr. Davis asked why, she said she hadn't got around to it yet.

Miss Whitney also admitted that on Nov. 16 she talked to District Attorney W. F. Menton and at that time she didn't have the whole amount needed for her October settlement.

All Paid Up

One striking feature of the case, stressed by Mr. Jacobs, is the fact that there was no shortage in her accounts when the grand jury indicted her for asserted misappropriation of funds, a charge which she is scheduled to answer Feb. 7. Mr. Davis stipulated today that Miss Whitney was square with the county up to Nov. 5. There has been no claim of a shortage since then.

The accusation against Miss Whitney alleges she violated the law by failing to make reports on the due date and with using money collected in one month to complete deposits for a preceding month.

In swearing to her affidavits filed with the auditor, Mr. Davis contends, Miss Whitney swore falsely because the money was not collected in the month named in the affidavit and statement to the auditor.

Testimony Differs
An apparent discrepancy in the testimony of Robert Mize, deputy recorder handling Torrens title matters, and that of Miss Nellie Colombini, an employee in the recorder's office, developed yesterday afternoon. Mr. Mize said that on Nov. 12 he had a conversation with Miss Colombini in which she offered to put up $1500 for Miss Whitney so she could make her October deposit with the treasurer.

Later Mr. Davis called Miss Colombini to the witness stand. She said she did not lend any money to Miss Whitney and that she never discussed the matter with Mr. Mize.

Mize Advises Her
Mr. Mize said that although he has not been active as counsel for Miss Whitney in the present case, he has advised her at every step in its development.

"I even told her what to tell the grand jury," he said.

Under examination by Deputy District Attorney Harold McCabe, Mr. Mize said that early last November Miss Whitney told him she had not made her October settlement and that she did not have enough cash on hand to make the settlement and equalize the amount taken in in November. He said she told him if she could borrow $900 it would help her make the settlement.

"I said I'd see what I could do," Mr. Mize testified.

Talked to Employees
He said he talked to Mrs. Ruby McFarland, chief deputy in the recorder's office, and Mrs. Matilda Crowell, also employed there.

Mr. Mize said he suggested to these women that they lend Miss Whitney three-quarters of their monthly salary and that they advise the other employees in the office to do likewise. He also talked to several others in the office, but later told Miss Whitney he was unable to do anything.

Mrs. McFarland testified regarding findings held by the girls employed in the office, one of which was held Nov. 11 at the home of Mrs. Italy Lee. The conversation at these meetings was not admitted to evidence. Mrs. McFarland said she never talked to Miss Whitney about raising the money.

Two Almost Lost Jobs
Two employees in Miss Whitney's office were told by her not to report for work after she had refused to lend money so she could make her October settlement, they testified yesterday.

Mrs. Mabel Wilkinson of Garden Grove said she attended two meetings at which girls of the office discussed raising money, and that she refused to lend any. One of these meetings was last Nov. 11. On the following Saturday, said Mrs. Wilkinson, Miss Whitney told her over the telephone she would not be needed at work the following Monday.

Told to Come Back
But on Monday, the witness recalled, Miss Whitney told her she was sorry she had acted so hastily and had felt that Mrs. Wilkinson had talked too much outside and hadn't been loyal. She said she was told to come back to work on Tuesday.

Dorothy Kolkhorst, another office employee, testified to a similar experience after she refused to lend money to Miss Whitney. Both witnesses said that although they had been working since that time they had not conversed with Miss Whitney and she had not conversed with them, except to speak to each other when they came to work.

Directed Verdict Denied
After the prosecution rested yesterday afternoon, Mr. Jacobs asked for an instructed verdict on the ground that the district attorney had not proved any par-

WORSE THAN CHRISTMAS!

License Seekers Line Up Here

It's worse than the Christmas rush! Hundreds of last minute shoppers for 1936 license plates today were crowding the corridors of the Orange county courthouse and extending in a long queue across its lawn, as the deadline for obtaining the tags neared.

The official deadline set by the legislature is midnight tonight. The actual deadline in Orange county is 5 o'clock this afternoon. Capt. Henry C. Meehan of the California highway patrol said today. But he added later that the office would be open for a few hours tonight to accommodate working people unable to get their licenses during the day.

Tomorrow the state will collect double fees for all licenses issued. The deadline is final. There will be no extension. Licenses must be bought today or a double assessment will be imposed.

Since Jan. 1, approximately 28,000 new plates have been issued in this county, more than 20,000 of them through the Orange county branch of the highway patrol in the courthouse.

The Automobile Club of Southern California and the Orange County Auto club each has issued approximately 4000.

Those who wait too long to do their license shopping will have to take twice as much money with them starting tomorrow to get their tags.

PICK JEROME TO ATTEND TAX MEET

Supervisor W. C. Jerome today received credentials for attendance at Governor Merriam's tax and revenue problems conference, to be held at Sacramento next Monday. Mr. Jerome will represent the state association of county supervisors, the economic council of California and the tax research council of Orange county.

R. E. Fields, Butte county supervisor, will be the other representative of the supervisors' association. John Austin of Los Angeles will be the second representative of the economic council. The appointments were made by William C. McCowan, Bakersfield, chairman of the economic council, and W. A. Collins, Fresno, chairman of the supervisors' association.

Mr. Jerome will depart tomorrow morning and will attend a preliminary meeting of the California League of Municipalities at Sacramento Saturday. He also will confer with Frank Y. McLaughlin, state head of the Works Progress administration, at San Francisco, in regard to county relief matters.

MORE ABOUT POET

young Mrs. Jacobsen might be his great-aunt.

When she feels domestic, Ethel Jacobsen grabs a pencil and dashes off a poem on "what shall she wear when she's half-past two?" and wins a full page of space in the Ladies Home Journal.

But if she feels frivolous, it's more apt to be a jingle on "I gave him my heart and he gave me the air." Then Marion Reinhard of the Saturday Evening Post sends back a check and keeps the poem for "Postscripts." The Fullertonian has made "Postscripts" almost every week for the past three years.

"When I was in high school," she said as she thumbed through a fat scrapbook, "I decided I could write poems as good as those I saw in Judge. I gave it a try, sent in my poem and promptly got it back. That ended my literary ambitions."

And They Took It!
"Seven years later I found the poem in a trunk. Strangely enough, it still sounded good. So I sent it back to Judge. This time they took it."

Life in the Jacobsen home has its unexpected angles. There's the orange Persian cat, one of three in the home, whose name is Lulu, although she's a he. The name was bestowed by young Noel Jacobsen, daughter of the home.

And if things look quiet, along comes a letter from a lovelorn marine, who's read the Jacobsen verse and feels he's found a soulmate. Ever since October there's been a letter a day from someone who wants to help Ethel "find her soul."

Likes Her Fan Mail
However she may chortle over the nice fat checks, I'm convinced the Fullerton poet gets her greatest pleasure from her good-sized fan mail.

"Here's a woman who sent me her poem, 'Love Perennial,'" she wailed. "Why didn't she pick on Eddie Guest?"

"Here's some from a woman," she said, warning to her subject. "She wrote several times, and then it came out. She wanted to collaborate. I had a wealth of material which really ought to be used. As if ideas were worth anything. I've got a million of them, but they've got to be worked up before they can be marketed."

She Studied Art
The funniest people who write are the ones who think I live in a New York penthouse, am thoroughly enamored and smoke cigarettes from a very long holder."

particular specification in the grand jury accusation against Miss Whitney. He said no evidence had been produced to show the fees in question ever had been collected. In order to prove she had misappropriated the funds, he argued, it must first be shown that she had collected them. The only evidence of this collection, he contended, was the affidavits she filed when making her reports to the auditor.

The court denied the request except for specification nine, in which it was alleged that Miss Whitney borrowed money from girls in the office. Judge Scovel said the evidence did not prove such a loan was made and that he would direct a verdict for Miss Whitney on this specification at the end of the trial.

COLD STORMS DAVIS TALKS WITH KING

By the Associated Press
Cold storms on land and sea that have lashed at the North American continent for more than a week only slightly abated today while snowfall of record-breaking proportions covered much of the South.

Snow drifted from Texas to the Carolinas, sparing only Florida, South Georgia and the gulf coastal regions. There a cold rain fell.

Cold in Boston
Temperatures along the East coast north to New York were slightly lower, but Boston had its coldest day of the year with a 3.8 degree temperature, and recorders fell from Lake Michigan southward to Mexico.

Miami, Fla., had the warmest weather with a maximum of 70 for the last 24 hours. The California coast was a close runner-up. San Francisco registered 64 degrees and Los Angeles 62.

Floating ice hindered navigation along the Atlantic coast and high winds brought danger in the Gulf of Mexico.

Schooner Missing
Coast guards searched the seas of New Jersey for the 65-foot schooner, Anna and Ella, unreported since she left Cape May, N. J., Jan. 18 with a crew of seven for Norfolk, Va.

Inland, the snow storm in Texas cost the life of an airline pilot who was credited with saving the lives of his five passengers. The plane crashed during a forced landing in a blinding blizzard.

Other deaths were recorded in Arkansas and Alabama.

glazed pottery, the antique finish of her piano and the upholstery on all the furniture bore testimony to the eastern art education which was Ethel Jacobsen's experience.

One volume among the scores held in odd-shaped ivory bookshelves is of poetry. "Unaccustomed as I am," its author, Morris Ryskind, inscribed in the flyleaf: "To Ethel Jacobsen, who remembers when this book was in its first edition . . . It still is."

Then Hubby Enters
The diminutive poet's blue eyes sparkled as her husband, a six-footer, entered the room. He lighted his pipe and watched his wife tolerantly as she went on answering questions.

"I've always done exactly as I've wanted," she declared. "Now that I can make a success of poetry, I want to branch out into some other sort of writing. Perhaps satirical prose."

A loud wail came from the bedroom. "I'm fundamentally domestic," Ethel Jacobsen said hastily, and exited to restore peace to her younger daughter, who'd just accidentally upset a can of something or other on her foot.

SUPPORT FOR F. D. R. BALL IS URGED

Calling on the people of Santa Ana to "lend every effort in the great humanitarian undertaking" of assisting infantile paralysis victims and extending medical research in order to devise means of stamping out the malady, Joseph P. Smith, general chairman of the President's Ball committee, last night made an appeal for cooperation in tonight's dance and card party, in a radio speech over KVOE.

"Thursday night," Mr. Smith said, "when you dance at the American Legion hall, or play bridge at the Ebell clubhouse, please remember that the small amount you have paid for those privileges, added to those thousands more so spent by the millions of people expected to attend 6000 similar functions throughout the nation, may enable some poor kiddie or help some grown-up in some remote corner of an unknown section of the country to acquire the use of their limbs and enjoy the sensation of walking once more."

Mr. Smith outlined the manner in which funds received from tonight's functions would be expended, and gave his personal thanks to the members of the executive committee and committees in charge or arrangements for their help in organizing the parties.

The following telegram, he said, was sent by the committee to President Roosevelt:

"The committee in charge of the President's birthday ball for Santa Ana, extends sincere greetings on attainment of your 54th birthday. The people of this community are grandly responding to this great humanitarian undertaking and each and every citizen very highly commends you for initiating this work for the good of humanity and assure you that our local function will be crowned with initial success."

Here and There With The Journal's
Rambling County Editor
By I. N. (BRICK) GAINES

CABBAGE eaters! We'd always heard the famed vegetarian colony, which at one time was located near Placentia, thus named—always jokingly. Lots of stories have circulated about that colony, so we thought, to find out what it was really about, we'd better talk to Jim Tuffree, who now owns the property on North Placentia avenue where the colony was located.

Jim felt like we did—there have been enough jokes about the colonists—he figured it was about time to tell some of the serious work done on the intensively cultivated site which he purchased back in 1931. So here's what he told us:

First, on the famous Thales ranch, they propagated the Placentia Perfection walnut.

Ninety per cent of all walnut groves in California are now planted to that variety!

Second, the Hachiya persimmon, one of the most popular and best for this climate, was developed there.

And third, the Thales loquat, also famous among orchardists, and prominently mentioned in seed and plant catalogs, was also a product of that ranch.

That should be enough. But all sorts of tropical fruits—more than 42 varieties of avocados, nuts, and many interesting plants are still growing on the ranch.

Jim has saved the parent walnut tree and many of the original avocado and persimmon trees on the place. They still bear each year. They're worth seeing!

And then he told us something of the history of the place. In 1876 George Hind, his wife, Hanna, and daughter, Lillie, came to Placentia from Coventry, England. Mr. Hind, it was understood then, answered some sort of spiritual call, which finally landed him in this part of the country. He abandoned a profitable business as a brewmaster in England, according to the story.

R. H. Gilman, another pioneer of the district, told Jim of having seen the Englishman arrive. He disappeared up the road with his family, and the next recollection Mr. Gilman has of the family is seeing large loads of lumber being hauled to the ranch site, he said. The lumber was milled and shipped from San Francisco, and was hauled overland from Anaheim Landing.

This family was not vegetarian, but Mr. Hind planted many fruits and vegetables on the property. In 1878 Dr. Louis Schlesinger, a free love cultist from Oneida, N. Y., arrived, claiming that a spiritual call had brought him to the ranch. He was accompanied by a Miss Schifford.

And then the fun started. They formed the "Societas Fraternalis" with spiritual communion the central theme of the organization. Mr. Tuffree still has a bible, "Oahspe," used in their religious work, as well as much spiritualistic apparatus.

The colonists, joined by others, soon became strict vegetarians. That Dr. Schlesinger had dietetic ideas far ahead of his time was illustrated in an old newspaper clipping, which told how he was hailed into court in Santa Ana, with Mr. and Mrs. Hind, for "willfully omitting to provide a child with proper food."

The child was a son of the Hinds, according to the story and was one year old at the time. He was fed principally on scraped apples and orange juice—a diet prescribed by many physicians today. But the doctor went too far—that was all they gave the youngster to eat. The jury disagreed, and the case was forgotten.

According to an old newspaper account, members of the colony would eat no meat of any kind. Also, no butter, cheese, or bread. It was the belief that they should eat only veg. cables which did not need cooking—already our stomachs are aching!

The colonists had no desire to accumulate wealth. They held the marriage ceremony in contempt—that's what the account says.

As you can see, this column is getting along toward the bottom of the page. We should be finished, and we're only half through. So, if you'll bear with us for another day, we'll tell about arrival of the real czar of the colony, the unusual house with round rooms and the pot of gold buried in the cellar!

So hang on till tomorrow! We'll promise anything but ghosts!

DEAN FLINT IS LION SPEAKER

ORANGE.—Dean Calvin C. Flint of Santa Ana Junior college gave his impressions of the European situation when he spoke at the Wednesday noon meeting of the Lion's club in the American Legion hall.

All reports from the war zone of Northern Africa are censored and propagandized, and are often not true, he said. However, important as the conflict may seem, it is merely a sideshow to the main event seemingly coming to a head in Europe, he added.

Preparations for another great war are centered around Great Britain, he said. Many of the colonies desired by other countries, he explained. Several things which would cause England to fight would be to protect Belgium, Gibraltar, the Suez canal, passage through the Red Sea, India and the China trade, he said.

TUNA FLEET AT BAY PLANNED

NEWPORT BEACH.—A base for a fleet of tuna clippers will be established at Newport Harbor during the year. It has been announced by Capt. W. J. Brown, prominent boat builder of the harbor district. Value of the fleet is estimated at a figure of $500,000, and is owned by the Pan-American Tuna Fish Corp., of which Captain Brown is president.

Three new clippers will be added to the fleet within a few months, making it the largest fleet of modern tuna clippers on the Western coast. The boats will be electrically driven and operated and will be strictly modern in every way. They will be built at a cost of $250,000.

Captain Brown recently remodeled and rebuilt the famous "Romancia," which had been formerly built as a palatial pleasure yacht for King Ferdinand of Spain in 1898. The boat was confiscated during the Spanish-American war.

Recently the boat narrowly escaped shipwreck off a rocky island in southern waters when her engines were disabled, but coast guard cutters effected a rescue.

Column Left

Side Glances
Some Feud, Eh?
Short Stuff

Side glances down sports alley:
Coach Reece (Pinky) Greene, winding up a disastrous season with his Saint basketball squad, seems to be the hard luck man of the year hereabouts. A couple of injuries—Ed Eastham in particular—yesterday, at about the 36-34 loss at San Bernardino yesterday.

San Bernardino is powerful. Yesterday's game, if you want our guess, is an indication that San Diego's Hillers, who play here Friday night, may bump headlong into a surprise.

Everything happens to us. We have to stand around and take a little kidding today just because a flustered stutterer and a proof reader fumbled, resulting yesterday, at about the same place in this page, we inadvertently said "pro grid coaches get $100,000 per year." Just an extra goose egg and a misplaced comma, but what a heap of hah-hahs resulted.

That's a swell little feud they're cooking up over at Santa Anita between Cavalade and Discovery. Cavalade was tentatively slated to go to the post today, his first start since he unseated Rider Johnny Gilbert in the Suburban Handicap at Belmont last May.

Discovery, according to all his press notices, just keeps on getting better and better each day. Yesterday he clinched off a mile and one sixteenth in 1:58 "breeding" as the boys say.

Cavalade last week did a mile in 1:36-2-5.
In any event, the wise guys and the early birds (they do the clocking at Santa Anita) aren't attempting to figure Cavalade's chances in the $100,000 Santa Anita Handicap until the "Chocolate Soldier" has had a race. And whether it was today or will be Saturday—all depending upon track conditions—Cavalade will have at least one race before the big one.

Santa Ana's Saints can almost put a 100 per cent "native son" team on the basketball floor. Sam Lockhart, Bill Flood, Ed Eastham and Erwin Youel are all Californians. The other two regulars, Larry Tway and Merle Morris, are from Arizona and Michigan respectively.

Short stuff: J. W. E., our city editor, will be happy to know that a New York dispatch today reports: "Knickerbocker, coming back in golf and you bow-legged fellows may as well wake up your minds to like it. . . the 1936 knickerbocker will be less baggy than the old plus fours, but they'll be knickerbocks just the same."

Merle Morris, Riverside, 1. c's hula hipped footballer, who made life miserable for every team in the neighborhood except Santa Ana, is leading the Eastern conference in basketball scoring. . . Hank Bath, Jack Kearns' boy and Red Burman, Jack Dempsey's protegee, probably will tangle in the Coliseum stadium on Feb. 14. Don Benzer is coming back to the local arena. . . the Anaheim kid ranks close to Lupe Cordova (whom he has twice licked) in popularity. . . Lupe is turning pro unless he makes the Olympic team.

SZABO HESITANT ON REMATCH

Dick Daviscourt, the veteran rougher from Vista, who has made local wrestling followers forget Ernie Duncak, any will tangle in Willie Davis as a gentleman today agreed to meet Sander Szabo in a rematch Monday night, but Szabo is still holding out asking additional time to prepare for the return encounter.

Unless Sampson can get Szabo on the dotted line today he will make an effort to sign Bill Sledge for Daviscourt with the Szabo match billed late.

George (The Great) Calza has been definitely signed to appear at the Orange County Athletic club on Monday night's mat card.

RACING DEATHS 'ACCIDENTAL'

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 30. (AP)—A verdict of accidental death was returned yesterday by a coroner's jury, investigating the race-track crash, last Sunday, in which Al Gordon, veteran driver, and his mechanic, Walter "Spider" Matlock, lost their lives.

The mishap was not due to negligence on the part of anyone, the verdict said.

DEMPSEY VS. KEARNS

CHICAGO, Jan. 30. (AP)—That much ballyhooed ring battle between Jack Dempsey and Jack Kearns—with Red Burman and the Chicago stadium Feb. 14. Dempsey has signed his "second" Kearns was expected to do likewise on behalf of his "second" Dempsey. Bath, today or tomorrow. The meeting of the two "white hopes" directed by the old mauler and the man who steered him to the heavyweight title originally was arranged for New York.

NEW PLAYERS JOIN LOCAL GOLFERS

Dr. Ross, Captain, Picks Team for Match at Fox Hills Feb. 23

Acceptance of Fox Hills' second team to replace the Virginia Country club of Long Beach, which withdrew after a formal protest, is the latest development affecting Santa Ana golfers in Southern California inter-team match play.

Under an entirely new set-up, previously announced by Los Angeles officials, the usual home-and-home series will be replaced by matches on neutral courses during the 1936 season, opening Feb. 23.

Competing under Division No. 4, Santa Ana will face Hacienda on the neutral course of Fox Hills in the first round. Virtually all of the matches originally scheduled for Virginia will be conducted at Fox Hills.

Virginia Objects
Virginia officials recently notified the S. C. G. A. of their withdrawal because the new arrangement is unsatisfactory to them. They objected to the long and expensive trip to San Diego, and were highly in favor of retaining home-and-home matches.

Fox Hills' first appropriation will be competing in Division No. 2, but the team picked for Santa Ana and others in the No. 4 group will be a titanic contender, it is believed. All large clubs are capable of fielding three or four representative teams.

Fourteen players will comprise a team. Dr. Garland C. Ross, who has had the honor of captaining Santa Ana for several years, is developing his 1936 outfit around Dick Ewert, W. W. (Bill) Foote, Eddie Holmes, Larry Bemis, J. K. McDonald, B. V. Curry, E. E. Farnsworth, L. D. Coffing, Ray Chapman, Bill Johnson, Warren Fletcher, Nick Thompson, A. W. Robinson and Homer Robinson. Dr. Ross will have two high-class additions in Ben Manker and Earl Wilson.

First-round matches Feb. 23 are arranged as follows: Santa Ana vs. Hacienda, at Fox Hills; Palos Verdes vs. Fox Hills, at Hacienda; San Diego vs. Coronado, at Santa Ana.

Defending Champion
California club of Division No. 1 is the defending Southern champion. Revised pairings follow:
Division No. 1—Flintridge, Midwick, Lakeside, California, Sam Gabriel and Hollywood.
Division No. 2—Los Angeles, Hillcrest, Riviera, Brentwood, Red Hills and Fox Hills.
Division No. 3—Redlands, Oakland, Victoria, Mt. Meadows, Red Hill and Chevy Chase.
Division No. 4—Santa Ana, Fox Hills' second team, San Diego, Coronado, Palos Verdes and Hacienda.

DENY JOE LOUIS 'EXPECTING'

CHICAGO, Jan. 30. (AP)—John Roxborough, co-manager of Joe Louis, challenger for the heavyweight championship, said today that the Brown Bomber and his bride were planning an immediate trip to Hot Springs, Ark., but that their honeymoon to Honolulu is still undecided.

"They haven't made up their minds," he said.
Louis plans to rest up in Hot Springs for several days.
Roxborough denied having said Mrs. Louis was "expecting."

THIS GAME OF BASKETBALL

Nibs Price, University of California basketball coach, charts one of his pet plays. The movement starts with 2 passing to 3, who advances to receive the ball. Meanwhile, 4 goes forward as indicated, and across court 5 advances toward the free throw lane. No. 3 passes to 4, then 3 races in a wide loop, eventually encircling 5. No. 1 beelines across court, receives a pass from 4 and short passes back to 4 as indicated, this taking place at the moment 3 is circling behind 5. Attempts to guard 5 and 3 (with the latter behind and to the right of 5) often allow 3 to complete his circle and receive the ball from 4 for an open shot from the point X. It takes fast passing and good timing.

(Written for The Associated Press)

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—The California basketball squad made a long swing to the Atlantic Coast this season, giving us a good opportunity to compare different styles of play and to form some estimate of our own methods. The trip has confirmed my judgment that the fast break offense should be used.

It is a particularly good thing here on the Pacific coast, where the fans like and expect a fast game, but that is not my chief reason for using it. I use it because I want to make baskets, and if we can beat the defense down before they get set and thus make a score I think it is good tactics.

Of course, when we are balked the team has to go into a set formation and fight its way through by the slow-breaking method. Our system has thus been a free-swinging system.

I believe other sections of the country are coming over to this style of play. It was particularly noticeable in the middle west. Illinois is doing it, and I notice that New York university will swing until it gets stopped and then go into a set formation. I favor the elimination of the center jump. Among many arguments against it is that when the centers are anywhere near evenly matched it is seldom, indeed, that you get a clean-cut play off center.

On our trip east, however, I found very strong opposition to the proposal to abandon the center jump. Some coaches and spectators felt that each score was something of a "climax" and should be followed by the formal

NAME CHANGE OF BRAVES RAPPED

'Same Old Team' Says Bill King; Roster Proves His Point

By BILL KING
BOSTON, Jan. 30. (AP)—The baseball club with the longest name puts its title, the National League Baseball Club of Boston—on the chopping block today.
But the erstwhile Braves, by whatever name, remain the same old team. Their 1936 roster, in today's mail, proves it.
Several thousand names, one of which is one of the same old Braves, have been submitted for the consideration of a committee of writers.

The lucky nickname will be awarded two season passes for all games played on the premises at 32 Gaffney street, once known as Braves field.

The roster issued by the club includes one .300 hitter and a single major league pitcher who won more than he lost last season.

Outfielder Hal (303) Lee is the batter and Righthander Job (3 and 2) Reis, late of the Brooklyn, the pitcher.

Ed Brandt's name is missing, but when the printer crossed him off the list, he added Al Lopez, the first real catcher the club has had in 20 years—since Hank Gowdy's day—and infielder Tony Cuccinello. The ex-Dodgers and Walter Berger are counted on for much needed strength down the middle.

The rest of the infield probably will include Baxter Jordan at first, Bill Urbansky at short and Pinkie Whitney at third. If "Rabbit" Maranville is retained, other Cossar or Eddie Fletcher will be bargained out.

Lee, Berger and such other familiar faces as Joy Mowry, Rupert Thompson and Johnny Tyler comprise the outfield squad, along with Eddie Moriarty, the Holy Cross boy who quit the club last year after eight games.

On the pitching staff are such old stagers as Freddy Frankhouse, Danny Macfadyen, Bob Smith, Bobby Brown and Ben Cantwell. It also numbers Ray Benge, who accompanies Reis from Brooklyn, and several rookies who must click to get the club out of the cellar.

Among the youngsters are Jim Chaplin and Sharkey Eiland, late of Nashville, Joe McCloskey and Eldon McLean, up from Wilkes-Barre and Harrisburg, and a Simpson, Ill., boy named Gerald Veach, who won nine and lost four last year down in Paducah, Ky.

FULLERTON J. C. LICKS PHOENIX

FULLERTON, Jan. 30. (AP)—Phoenix, Ariz., Junior college lost its third consecutive basketball game in California last night when Fullerton J. C. defeated it, 22 to 21. Fullerton led at half time 15 to 12. Bolin, Phoenix forward, led the scorers with 11 points.

The Bears lost to Santa Ana Tuesday night, 36-27.

Collins Promised LeMon Bout If He Licks Powell

If Ernie Collins, the hard-socking Sherman Indian light-heavyweight wins decisively from Hub Powell in tomorrow night's feature amateur fight at the Orange County Athletic club, Lupe LeMon will give the battling redskin a rematch, he informed Promoter Sampson today through his spokesman and handler, Bob Singleton of Anaheim.

However, unless LeMon agrees to make 175 pounds the night of the contest, Collins may refuse the fight after begging for another crack at the Fullerton lad for the past week.

Officials of the 101 highway arena expect a near capacity crowd for the return of the fighting Indians from the Sherman Institute and also are confident that another night of wild slugging is in store for boxing followers.

Coast Umps Must 'Perform'

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 30. (AP)—Dramatic acting will be introduced into Pacific Coast league baseball umpiring this season if President Wilbur C. Tuttle has his way.

The new style prescribes that the first strike should be called mechanically, and only slight emphasis placed on the second. The

REBOIN MAKES RUGBY TALK

Advertising his game with Santa Monica here tomorrow night, and giving a general explanation of rugby, Coach Alvin Reboin of Santa Ana Junior college spoke before members of the Breakfast club at today's meeting in the Main street cafe.

Mr. Reboin compared the English sport of rugby with American football. One of the major differences, he said, is the ruling that no substitutions are allowed in rugby. Some teams have four or five players less than the opposition at the end of a rough rugby exhibition in which players become injured or fatigued. Officials, rules and scoring also were discussed.

LOCAL SQUAD FINDS PEAK OF SEASON

San Diego Quintet May Be Surprised Here Friday Evening

By PAUL WRIGHT
San Diego's Greystones, who visit Andrews gymnasium intent on winning the Coast Preparatory league championship here tomorrow night, may receive an unexpected surprise if Santa Ana's Saints repeat the scoring class they displayed at San Bernardino yesterday.

Reece (Pinky) Greene's home guard donated two games to the City of Santa Ana, but San Bernardino was feverishly extended in both tussles. The Redbirds won the varsity encounter, 36-34, and a special conflict between sophomores, 24-22.

The Saints, who have had rough sledding with Coast league opposition, reached their seasonal peak offensively—at San Bernardino.

Regulars Click
It was one of those rare occasions when four of the Santa Ana regulars were clicking at the same time. Bill Flood, guard, poured 11 points through the hoop for high-scoring honors, and Sam Lockhart and Erwin Youel, with seven points, and Ed Eastham, with six, also contributed generously.

The accurate shooting of Hunter, who corralled 15 points in a furious second-half rally, was responsible for San Bernardino's slim—but yet impressive—victory. Webster and Allender aided with six counters apiece.

Even Throughout
Santa Ana knotted the score, 7-7, at the end of the opening quarter, nursed a 17-15 lead at the half. The count was deadlocked going into the final and deciding eighth minutes—25-all.

San Diego will gain undisputed possession of the Coast league crown with victory here tomorrow night, but an upset by the Saints will demote Mike Morrow's south-erners to a first-place tie with the winner of the Long Beach Poly-Alhambra game at the Armory in Long Beach.

L. A. WILL OPEN CAMP MAR. 1

An agreement with the city provides that the Angels will pay for the upkeep of the park in consideration for no rental charges. The Pittsburgh Pirates trained here last year.

Here Are 2-Inch Rain-Guessers And Their Guesses

Those who have entered The Journal's rain-guessing contest and whose guesses have not been invalidated already by the time element, follow, together with the dates and hours they have selected for the city's first two-inch rain to begin:

H. Birt, 2210 Maple street, Feb. 1, 4 p. m.

John H. Trickey, Orange, Feb. 2, 1:30 a. m.

Dick Mather, 2022 North Ross, Feb. 2, 3 a. m.

Maud Head, 409 1/2 East First, Feb. 2, 12 noon.

Alta Arnold, 612 French, Nov. 9, 3 a. m.

David Carmichael, jr., 1311 No. Garnsey, Dec. 3, 6 a. m.

Well, it rained—for a grand total of .09 of an inch! Not much help to the drooping seasonal average, far below its normal figure, at 1.51 inches.

But at least it broke the 30-day drought, even though it didn't amount to much.

And it proved to The Journal two-inch rain guessers that rain was not a lost art in the county. Unfortunately forecasts today are for fair weather.

Now that we know it can rain if it wants to, the thing to do is get your guess as to the day and hour when a two-inch rain really will begin in The Journal rain editor before the time it commences. To the one who guesses closest, The Journal will award a new umbrella.

John Boles, Charles Bickford, H. B. Warner, the new comedy team of Willie Howard and Herb Williams, Grace Bradley, Charlotte Granville and Don Alvarado have leading roles. While "The Murder of Dr. Harrigan" is essentially a melodrama with startling disappearances, attacks and murders, the picture is highlighted with comedy and romance. No Tax Reference
There was nothing in the letter about new taxes to raise the money.

He proposed appropriating $5,500,000 for expenses of the veterans administration and $6,678,475 for expenses of the treasury in administering the law.

The absence of a tax request indicated that for the present, at least, the administration would borrow to meet the cost of the bonus. Since Mr. Roosevelt has said the bonds will not be ready for distribution until July, the greater part of the expense will fall in the next fiscal year, leaving ample time to raise new funds, Secretary Morgenthau has said the borrowing will be "orthodox."

AWAIT WORD
Chairman Doughton (D., N. C.) of the ways and means committee, where tax legislation must originate, said he did not see that Mr. Roosevelt's request for funds—which he regarded as routine—necessarily meant new tax legislation would be sought. He reiterated it was his disposition to await definite word from the White House or the treasury before doing anything at all on taxes.

Powerful members of congress were known, however, to be considering advising Mr. Roosevelt to delay the question until next session.

Amount Unknown
In lieu of new taxes, it was believed that the treasury, for the present at least, would borrow to meet the bonus cost.

Since no one knows how many veterans will choose to cash their bonus next summer and how many will hold them for years to obtain the 3 per cent interest offered, experts find it impossible to say just how much money will be needed in the near future.

Estimates of the eventual cost of the bonus range from $2,491,000,000 to something like $4,000,000,000. The last figure was mentioned by Senator Thomas (D., Okla.), a currency expansion leader, who is expected to lead a determined fight for an inflationary method of payment when congress considers the bonus appropriation.

Old Salt Who Knew Robert Louis Stevenson and Jack London 'Lands' at Laguna

By MAXINE STORREY

O. Henry might have met him on a New York park bench and taken away another story with a surprise ending. I met him in Laguna and this isn't a made-up story. One doesn't have to imagine things about the strange types that drift into our village of Laguna Beach.

He looked like the ancient mariner, without a sou'wester. Stocky, gray-haired, with eyes that twinkled kindly in a face like old brown shoe-leather, he impressed me immediately as a seaman of the old school.

'Many Funny Things'
"I'm tellin' ye, lady, what I say is true! A day or so ago I was on a ship in San Pedro harbor, and I remember goin' ashore for a drink, and when I comes to, I'm on the beach here in Laguna! Funny thing! But so many funny things have happened to me in my life."

'But I'm not goin' back to San Pedro, lady! No, sir. I'm goin' to rest up a bit in this fine town and then I'm on my way to San Diego t' find me a good honest job.'
"What's my name? John Richmond. Yep! Born in Kentucky many years ago. Walked all the way to New Bedford to get my first job on a whaler. The Tamerlane she was. You may have heard of her. We came around the Horn to San Francisco, then up at Point Barrow I had an experience that most interest y'. We took the fore topmast, stuck it in the ground, and raised the American flag. I was just a lad then, lady, and I climbed to the top an' carved my initials on the pole. That was about 16 miles from where Will Rogers and Wiley Post crashed. 'Course the flag would be gone long ago but I'll bet the pole and my initials are still there."

'Bomb Gun' Green
"Right y' are . . . right y' are. See this clipper tattooed on m' hand? Well, it was done in New Bedford in the year 1879. I was just a lad then, but it's stayed on all these years. I'm tellin' ye whain! was a great experience in those days. Y' see we'd go out in a little boat, throw the bomb gun at the whale, and just pray that it didn't splash around too much and upset us. There was a man . . . Captain Green his name was . . . and we used t' call him 'Bomb Gun' Green. He was capt'n of the

KNOX ASSAILS NEW DEAL'S TAXATION

'Stole Democratic Cloak to Hide Socialism,' He Says in Talk

CLEVELAND, Jan. 30. (AP)—Col. Frank Knox, Chicago publisher and a potential for the Republican Presidential nomination, last night urged business, as a public trust, to "stand up and fight," instead of complaining.

He said the New Deal administration had "stolen the cloak of the Democratic party under which to hide its own Socialistic skeleton."

'No Sham Battle'
He advocated a widespread program for revealing hidden taxes, asserting "this is no sham battle these New Dealers are putting up. The prize they covet is to run American affairs to suit themselves."

Addressing 1200 Republicans of North Ohio at the thirty-third annual McKinley day banquet of the Tippecanoe club, Colonel Knox declared business, by reason of its wide stock ownership, "has a case that is unbeatable—if it chooses to stand up and fight."

'Let businessmen go to the people and tell them the amount of taxes that have to be paid in order that this same public may be served,' he said. "Tell to employees the story of taxes. Show them that if it were not for the increasing tax burdens imposed by this present administration that better wages could be paid."

He said "open defiance of the constitution," the "abject servility by a majority of senators and congressmen," and attempts to discredit the supreme court had brought a situation unparalleled in America "since the days of the Civil war."

Up to People
He described the supreme court as the "one remaining American body in Washington," and asserted the American people in November would have to decide between "becoming vassals to a dictator in the guise of a Democratic President, or remaining free citizens of a free republic."

Colonel Knox promised his full support to whomever won the party nomination at the June convention here.

J. C. GIRLS TO GIVE TIMES PROGRAM

Santa Anans Will View Newspaper Plant in L. A. Tomorrow

Arrangements for an entirely new musical program for the radio broadcast in connection with the Santa Ana day at the Los Angeles Times building tomorrow, with the Junior college girls octet putting on the show, were completed today.

The original program scheduled for the Santa Ana broadcast, which was to have featured instrumental music under the direction of Leon Eckles, Orange county Works Progress administration music supervisor, was cancelled yesterday owing to station regulations which permit only members of a musicians' union to broadcast.

A large crowd of Santa Anans is expected to attend the inspection and tour of the new building tomorrow, with the party headed by civic and social leaders of the city. Mayor Fred C. Rowland will lead the Santa Ana delegation, and will be accompanied by chamber officials, members of service clubs, pupils of Santa Ana schools, and the general public.

A special Pacific Electric train will leave here tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. Those traveling by this train may return from Los Angeles on any of the out-bound cars they desire, it was announced today by company officials.

Tickets for the round trip will be sold at the special price of one dollar, with reduced rates in effect for persons under 21 years of age. A guarantee of at least 50 passengers was made the company by the chamber of commerce in order to arrange for the special train.

New King's Democracy Liked By British People

England's new monarch was ever democratic. The picture shows him as just another interested spectator at the British Open golf tournament.

By JAMES B. RESTON
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

In the genial personality of the new 41-year-old bachelor King Edward, the British empire seeks consolation for the death of his father.

Loved throughout his domain for his democracy and sportsmanship, the new king is widely recognized for the part he played in stabilizing the constitutional monarchy of Great Britain in the dreary days after the war.

In 14 years after the armistice, he made 10 extended journeys to colonies and dominions, to the United States and South American republics, and the stories of his popularity in these countries did much to strengthen the confidence of the English people in him.

Victoria's Favorite
Nor did he neglect the problems at home. He made many inspection trips to the great industrial centers and he was outspoken in deploring the conditions he found. He gained popularity from his interest in sports, by the untidy, carefree manner in which he played golf, tennis and polo, rode to hounds or drove a speedboat.

Edward VIII has enjoyed this popularity almost from the day of his birth. Born on June 23, 1894, where, according to Queen Victoria, he was the favorite great-grandchild of the queen. She drove from Windsor Castle to White Lodge, Richmond, to hold him in her arms two days after he was born.

He Wanted Action
An impetuous child, Edward (christened Edward Albert Christian George Andrew Patrick David) was put under tutors very early and soon was studying German and French, absorbing history and hating arithmetic. He was sent with his brother Albert to the Royal Naval colleges at Osborne and Dartmouth, when he was in his teens, and from there to the storied cloisters of Oxford, where, according to rumor, he enjoyed himself so much that he was moved to Cambridge.

The war, however, interrupted his schooling. He created a state problem by rebelling against staff duty behind the lines. He complained so vehemently about not being allowed to go into the trenches, that the state council and the king were called to decide the case. Lord Kitchener scotched the plan by saying to Edward:

"Get killed if you will, but what happens if you are taken prisoner?"

Immediately after the war he embarked on his first tour to Canada and the United States.

HEWITT CASE NOW BEFORE GRAND JURY

Question of Criminal Action Depends on Evidence Given

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 30. (AP)—The San Francisco grand jury demanded today that evidence in the Ann Cooper Hewitt sterilization case be laid before it so the jury can decide whether any criminal charges should be issued.

The question of issuing warrants against three defendants in Miss Hewitt's $500,000 damage suit is being considered by Municipal Judge Sylvain Lazarus.

It was left up to him in an unusual procedure after Miss Hewitt refused to sign criminal charges and the district attorney's office declined to take the case before the grand jury without her signature.

Miss Hewitt's civil suit charges her mother, Mrs. Marjorie Hewitt McCarter, Dr. Samuel G. Boyd and Dr. Tilton E. Tillman conspired to sterilize her so her mother could profit from a trust fund left by the girl's father. Mrs. Marie S. Scally, psychiatrist who said Miss Hewitt was mentally only 11 years old, is also a defendant.

The grand jury demanded that it be permitted to decide what to do after it reportedly received letters from defense attorneys saying the doctors were not receiving a "square deal."

Four afternoons of the week, classes in folk dancing, singing and play technique will be given by the Padua Hills staff.

Mary Stoddard Husband Who Philanders Degrades Himself When He Shouts "Jealous" at His Wife

When a deceitful, lying, double-crossing husband is caught up with by his wife he invariably shouts "jealous" at her, but it is a weak defense.

Furthermore, a husband who will cheapen his wife in this manner is also cheapening himself, although he is often so conceited that he cannot see it this way at the time.

Is there any cure for a husband of this caliber? It all depends. If he really loves his wife, perhaps a short marital vacation might convince him that he will lose her for good unless he keeps his marriage vows.

Such a problem confronts a wife who writes as follows: "Dear Miss Stoddard: For the first time in my life I have a problem I alone cannot solve. Will you ask your readers to help me? My next door neighbors are two widows, one 23, the other younger. Several months ago another neighbor laughing made the remark: 'I'm afraid if you do not get your eyes opened you'll be losing your husband. We're all betting on the young widow next door. What do you think?'"

My remark was that it is a poor wife who can't keep her husband. However, I knew that he took them out on one occasion when I had to be away for a few days, but I thought nothing of that as they seemed sincere, good neighbors.

But I decided to do a little checking and found that the youngest one was meeting him in a garage back of the house, having as an excuse that she wanted him to fix her car; also they would call him in, always with the excuse to fix something about the house. I had a talk with her and she promised on her word of honor she would not meet him again, but I find her word was broken. She is still meeting him.

I talked frankly with him about it and he tells me I have a jealous nature and regards it as a good joke on me. What do you think? What would you do? Can I keep my self-respect and my husband? I should think so when we are both 50-odd years old.

A WIFE.

MINNESOTA GUEST HONORED AT DESSERT BRIDGE

Courtesies were all for Mrs. Lenora Carver, Minnesota, who is the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Covey of Costa Mesa, Tuesday afternoon at a dessert bridge party given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Dawson, 521 South Birch street.

A valentine motif was followed by the hostess in her decorations and accessories.

A lovely gift was presented the honoree, and in the play of bridge, prizes were awarded Mrs. A. R. Muller, Mrs. Floyd Gage, Balboa, and Mrs. Elizabeth Price.

Others present were Mesdames Jessie Overton, Bessie Wright, Vivian Garlick, Mary Paul, Amanda Holmes, G. F. Ludlow, Judson Sutherland, A. E. Wallace, William E. McConnell, C. E. Jackson, Santa Ana, Mrs. Eugene Reber, Balboa, and Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Shueller, of Minneapolis, Minn., who are the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dawson.

S. O. S. CLUB MEETS WITH MRS. NEALLEY

S. O. S. club members were feted at a luncheon given by Mrs. E. M. Nealley Tuesday in her home at Tustin. Yellow acacia blossoms decorated the home.

Mrs. J. E. Gowen was selected by the group to succeed Mrs. F. W. Slabough as its president. Mrs. E. E. Keach won high score award in the afternoon bridge play.

Other guests were Mrs. J. E. Paul, playing for Mrs. C. A. Vance, and Mesdames A. M. Gardner, T. E. Stephenson, F. W. Slabough and Wyckoff Hoxie.

The Thinkers

Wherein women of the community express their views on topics of particular interest to women.

Do you think it is better to be too trusting or too suspicious?

Mrs. Ben B. Beasley: I'd hate for everybody to be suspicious. Sometimes, though, people seem so honest, and all the time are watching their chance to "gyp" you. Young people entering the business world usually have too much faith in everyone. The best course in business is to let people prove themselves—something they should be willing and glad to do.

Mrs. Edward Gray: I think it's a whole lot better to trust too far than not to trust at all. I wouldn't want people to be suspicious of me unless I deserved it. You don't need to be foolishly trusting, but it's surely wrong to be too suspicious.

Arliss Film Shows Here

For the first time in his screen history, George Arliss impersonates a tramp in "Mister Hobo," which is scheduled to run tonight at the West Coast theater with a second feature, "We're Only Human," a highly dramatic film.

The story of "Mister Hobo" concerns two hoboes who ply their trade through France and find themselves unexpectedly borne to prosperity through a mistake in identity.

"We're Only Human" features Preston Foster, Jane Wyatt, Arthur Hohl, James Gleason and Jane Darwell. The film tells the story of a detective who lent the meaning of fear and how a woman showed him how to conquer his fear.

The film "Rose Marie," which critics have declared to be greater even than "Naughty Marietta," which was scheduled to open at the West Coast Saturday, will open Friday instead, it was announced by Manager Lester J. Fountain. Jeanette MacDonald and Nelson Eddy are teamed in the musical drama.

Caddo parish (La.) farmers reaped $4,010,000 from crops in 1935, records show.

PROFITEERING IN STOCK MARKET

Issues Drop Slightly in Active Session;
Early Pace Fast

By VICTOR EUBANK

NEW YORK, Jan. 30. (AP)—The stock market today was a rather tame affair, with profit-taking today but, on the whole, was not particularly disturbed. Scattered reactions were attributed largely to technical influences having to do with the recent broad advance of selected equities. A number of issues were resistant and a few strong spots were in evidence. The ticker tape got behind in the first and second hours, then the pace slowed. Improvement was shown by Electric Boat, American Steel, Foundries, U. S. Steel, Republic Steel, Delaware and Hudson, N. Y. Central, Warner Bros., General Asphalt and most of the utilities and oils. Case and U. S. Smelting dropped 2 each. The motors were backward and Schenley, Hiram Walker, American Radiator, American Can and Continental Can lost a point or so each.

Grain Market

CHICAGO, Jan. 30. (AP)—Renewal of inflation talk rallied wheat late today after prices had touched the lowest level witnessed in more than a month. The rally followed Washington reports that the inflation bloc in congress had succeeded in appending to the farm bill currency exchange provision with a view of restoring prices to 1925 parity. A restraining influence on rally, though, was continued weakness of the Winnipeg market. When closed irregular, it lay lower to 10 cents higher, compared with yesterday's finish. May 99 1/2-59 1/2; oats unchanged to 10 cents higher, and prices unchanged to 10 cents decline. Closing prices:

MRS. WITMER IS WORRIED Man and Wagon Cause Fear

Mrs. Paul Witmer, 602 McFadden street, wife of Santa Ana's former mayor, is slightly perturbed. Yesterday she telephoned police and asked their advice upon a subject that has bothered her considerably. During recent weeks, she said, an old Mexican man in the habit of visiting the neighborhood, he always had a little red wagon with him, and on three different occasions she has asked him to move on and stay away from her home. Another, splashed against blue-gray, is a study of brown pottery, silvery bulbs and green narcissus shoots. She has painted several versions of San Francisco bay, which, she said, "is beautiful and different from every angle—I could spend my life there."

She also is painting landscapes and portraits in oil.

MRS. MOODY PAINTS FOOD Tennis Champ's Art 'Good'

NEW YORK, Jan. 30. (AP)—Helen Willis Moody, artist, author and world's woman tennis champion, is painting eggplant, tomatoes and celery. One of the tennis star's new oils, finished since her triumph at Wimbledon last summer, is a still-life of brilliant-colored vegetables with a pink background. Another, splashed against blue-gray, is a study of brown pottery, silvery bulbs and green narcissus shoots. She has painted several versions of San Francisco bay, which, she said, "is beautiful and different from every angle—I could spend my life there."

She also is painting landscapes and portraits in oil.

MICKEY 'STEALS' ART SHOW Mouse Vies With Rembrandt

CHICAGO, Jan. 30. (AP)—From Rembrandt to Mickey Mouse is a long jump in the world of art, but Chicago's Art Institute made it today. A likeness of the famous rodent was shown in the museum's annual show by artists of Chicago and vicinity. A loosely drawn copy of Walt Disney's original, the mouse was done in oil, a new and striking compromise between serious painting and caricature. Brilliant in red pants and yellow gloves and shoes, Mickey stands in the foreground, gazing down from the roof of a city building at a bright sign on a tavern across the street.

Although he did not win a prize, the mouse held a unique place as a ridiculous contrast to the sublime of the institute's last show, the masterpieces of Rembrandt.

Partly because of this, and partly because they have learned to expect controversy over all innovations in art, institute officials said the mouse might stir up a storm of criticism similar to the row over the much-maligned and much-praised—modern American exhibit of last fall.

MORE ABOUT LONDON

of work today as there were when it first set up shop," he said.

The administration has presented no permanent solution of our major problems."

Landon's View

An affable "thank you" was his only acknowledgement to the party workers who greeted him as "the new president."

Briefly, the Landon view of national government—"The time has come for a direct attack on the attempt at Washington to substitute a tax-eating bureaucracy for a liberal democratic system."

National Finances—"A nation will survive to correct its political mistakes * * * if an unsound financial program is coupled with such mistakes * * * the nation faces destruction."

Relief—"We need desperately a cheaper, simpler and more responsible relief administration through the nation."

Farm Problem—"A policy that is not limited in its benefits to immediate cash returns, but seeks as well to rebuild the fertility of the soil * * * would fit in with the demand of agriculture for equality with industry."

The Supreme Court—"The action of the supreme court in cutting away some of the errors in recent national legislation has given our country impetus to our entire economic life."

The Constitution—"The constitution is not an obstacle to progress * * * it is the balance wheel of progress."

His Platform "is not without to keep on with the mistakes of the so-called New Deal or return to the mistakes of the old order. The old order belongs to the past but sound American principles persist."

For the next Republican national platform Landon suggested:

"A straightforward declaration that will set forth the careful thought and serious convictions of one person but of many."

"Behind the platform to be an honest intention to redeem its pledges."

COUNTY VEGETABLE MEN TO OPEN OFFICES THIS WEEK

Officers of the Orange County Vegetable Growers' association, including growers in Ventura, Orange, parts of Los Angeles, Imperial and Riverside counties, will open offices this week in the farm bureau building, Santa Ana.

The offices will be maintained by the association until the time of its annual meeting on March 2, it was announced by Chairman Lawrence Kokx, Orange.

The Vegetable Growers association is leading the fight to secure a minimum rate of $15 per ton roadside for tomatoes this year from canners and packers in the Southern California district. Efforts during the past two weeks have been directed toward securing a majority of the Southern California growers to sign up with the association for marketing of their tomatoes, Mr. Kokx said.

With more than 90 per cent of the tomatoes grown in the Southern California district already contracted to the association, it is believed that when negotiations open next week with canners, the price rise will be effected.

Shortly after representatives of the growers met with canners and demanded the increase from $10 to $15 a ton, the canners offered a compromise settlement of $12. This was rejected by the growers, and no further negotiations have been held, due to canners' representatives attending a general canners association convention in the East.

TONIGHT'S PROGRAMS

By HOMER CANFIELD

IT SHOULD BE SOME SONG the airlines sing tonight * * * words by President Roosevelt, set to a million dollars worth of dance music. For radio joins in one of the largest hookups to honor the chief executive's day of birth.

As during several years past, following balls—more than 7000 this year—have been held throughout the country. Proceeds are devoted to the fight against infantile paralysis.

The president will take time out from his own party to address dialers and explain the object of the nationwide celebrations. (KHJ, KFSD, KECA, 8:30.)

The bands of Jack Hylton, Tommy Dorsey, Eddie Duchin, Tom Coakley, Enrie Madriguera, Little Jack Little, Isham Jones, Ted Weems, Ray Noble, Glen Gray and Emil Coleman are to supply the dance music.

LAWRENCE STAINING, famous war correspondent who has only recently returned from covering the Italo-Ethiopian conflict, was scheduled for Rudy Valle's show last week. Sudden illness postponed his appearance.

However, we're assured that he's well again, and will tell Valle and his listeners today's actual war situation in Africa. (KFI, 5.)

Edward G. Robinson, Shirley Booth, Frank Fay and Don Johnson are also booked for the program.

ANYTHING but LOVE
by JANET DORAN

Alma Whitaker, social butterfly in the little town of Burnwood, falls in love with Johnny Anthony, a nobody who turns up from nowhere and becomes golf pro at the country club. He seems to be in love with her but, because of some mysterious secret in his past, flings up a barrier between them. When Alma's father goes bankrupt and suffers a breakdown, he Aunt Harriet Falken takes them into her home and tries to marry her off to the rich Sir Boddie. Alma rejects him but, to spite Johnny, lets him think she and Sir Boddie are engaged. He decides to leave Burnwood. Meanwhile, Alma prepares to look for a job as soon as the Whitaker home and its contents have been sold at a foreclosure auction.

CHAPTER XXI

Banks came with the car to take Alma back to the Falken mansion to see her father and Aunt Harriet off to Maine. She dreaded the moment of parting. She felt as if she were deserting her father in turning him over to Aunt Harriet.

"But I've no choice—my hands are tied," she told herself. "She will see that he gets the material comforts—the doctors and care and medicine and good food that I couldn't possibly manage. Burnwood is not likely to extend to a Whitaker a penny of credit from now on. So I'll just have to mark time!"

It was not so easy, however, as her words implied. It was one thing to decide something with the head, and yet another to carry it out
